Meandering Along the Main Stem

By WASH FAYETTE

Mr. and Mrs. Hughey Backenstoe, Sr., of the Jamestown road are entertaining a celebrated canine visitor from the east until the first of the year, namely "Smokey," a small black and white cocker spaniel belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Carle.

While "Frankie," has he is affectionately known to the "bobbysock brigade," and a host of older Carle fans, is on a tour with his orchestra, "Smokey" will remain at the Backenstoe home until the first of the year. Then the maestro takes his orchestra, including Hughey Backenstoe, Jr., at the piano, to California for the winter. There a motion picture contract has been signed and work on it is scheduled to begin around that time.

Many a smoker has gone without a smoke in this community since the Central Grocery fire Sunday caused temporary suspension of business by that wholesale company.

It seems that a liberal portion of the cigarettes sold in this city and community have come from the Central Grocery Co., and that as a result some dealers have been almost devoid of supplies this week. The situation is likely to continue to be until the company reopens next week.

It is also understood that practically the entire stock of cigarettes on hands at the time of the fire was saved by volunteers, including a Boy Scout troop, and trucked to safety.

When the company reopens first of the week indications are that the big shortage will be temporarily relieved, although reports indicate it will be months before an adequate supply will be available at all times.

Deputy Sheriff Otto Reno has just gathered his crop of peanuts from a small patch in his garden on South North Street, and his crop reminds me of the story about Pat.

Pat was walking homeward carrying a sack containing a pig. He informed an inquiring friend that he had been having the pig weighed.

"How much did it weigh?" he was asked.

"Well," replied Pat, "it did not weigh as much as I thought it would, and I didn't think it would."

Ott's peanut yield was small, due to the dry weather, but he intends trying his luck next year.

Sheriff W. H. Icenhower, who took Pearl Gilmore to the Mansfield Reformatory Friday to begin serving a term for pocket picking, has discovered another 17 entering into Gilmore's checkered career. Gilmore was in jail 17 days Sheriff Icenhower said. In addition to Pearl being 17 years old, he was convicted Oct. 17 for taking $17, and being sentenced Oct. 17 after the jury had reported 17 minutes after 3 o'clock.

CHURCHILL RETURNS TO REPORT ON MEET

Conference in Italy on Way Home Is Disclosed

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(P)—Prime Minister Churchill, back in Britain after 10 days in Moscow, is expected to report to the House of Commons this week on his conferences with Premier Stalin and other Soviet officials.

Churchill returned to London yesterday.

It was previously reported from Cairo that Churchill had stopped off there en route home, and had conferred with British army and navy leaders in connection with the prosecution of the war in the Far East.

A conference with undisclosed leaders in Italy was also announced.

FORRESTAL'S ASSISTANT WITH KROGER COMPANY

CINCINNATI, Oct. 23.—(P)—Election of Jacob E. Davis, a special assistant to the Secretary of the Navy, as vice president in charge of the legal and public relations department of the Kroger Grocery and Baking Co., was announced today by C. M. Robertson, president.

Davis, a native of Waverly, O., a former Ohio congressman and a graduate of Harvard Law School, will assume his new duties January 1.

FARM QUESTIONS TAKE POLITICAL SPOTLIGHT NOW

Sen. Ball, a Republican, Backs Roosevelt as Dewey Heads For Midwest Campaign

By J. W. DAVIS
(By the Associated Press)

How Americans can prosper in farm communities developed new political arguments today, along with the question of how America might work in a community of nations.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey traveled from New York state to the midwest with his summary of a postwar agricultural program, which he is expected to broadcast from Minneapolis tomorrow.

Before leaving Albany, Dewey issued a statement in which he termed full production and employment in business and industry the "first fundamental necessity for a prosperous agriculture." He added that only if all elements pull together "can we attain the twin goals of prosperous farming and a good diet for all our people."

The choice of Minneapolis would place the Republican presidential nominee in the same city where over the week end Vice President Wallace predicted that under a Republican administration the net farm income would "be cut in half within a few years."

Ball Backs Roosevelt

Minnesota also figured in the political scene through the announcement by Joseph H. Ball, one of its Republican senators, that "I shall vote for and support President Roosevelt."

The senator, abandoning his party for the presidential race, said Mr. Roosevelt had met the foreign policy issues more squarely than had Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

In his Saturday night speech on foreign relations, Ball said, President Roosevelt kept a record of action by "meeting squarely and unequivocally the two vital and controversial issues on which the isolationists kept us out of the League of Nations and will fight our entry into the United Nations Security Organization."

The senator added in a statement:

"Governor Dewey has opposed delay but has not met squarely

HARBOR FIRE FATAL TO NINE; 100 HURT

Two Landing Ships, Dock Are Wrecked

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—(P)—Nine men are dead, five missing and more than 100 injured following a harbor fire Saturday that wrecked two naval landing ships, 200 feet of dock, a large crane and about 15 welding trucks.

San Pedro police said "witnesses indicated the fire started when a welder on one of the landing craft dropped some hot sparks into the water covered by kerosene, apparently spilled from a navy tanker."

Of the injured, 22 sailors and 10 civilians remain in hospitals.

Wright Field Engineers Duplicate Robot Bombs

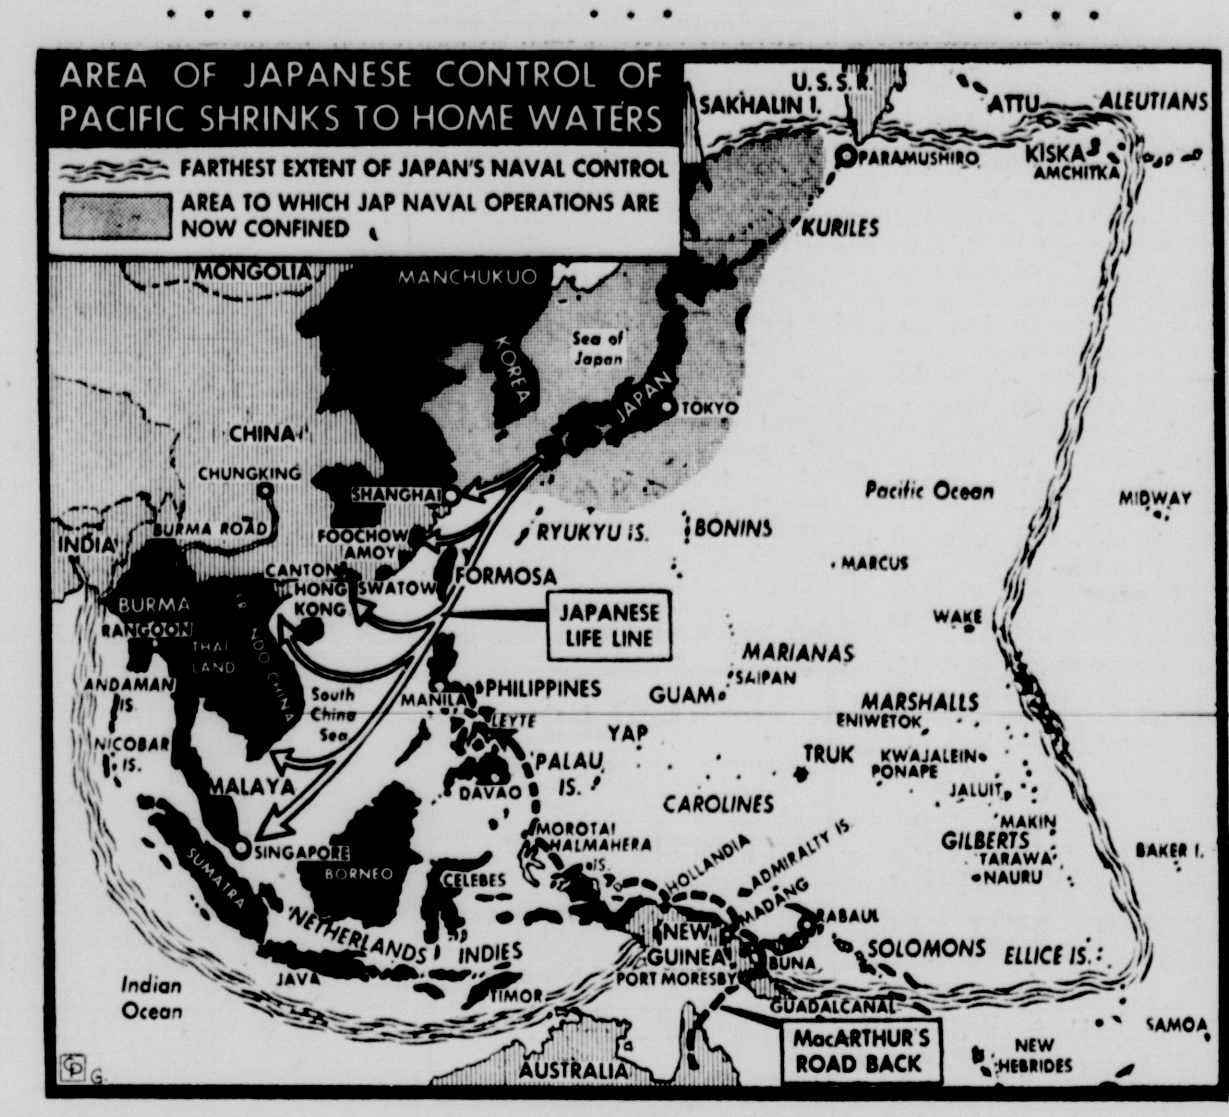

DAYTON, Oct. 23.—(P)—American engineers duplicated German robot bombs at Wright Field here 60 days after receiving parts from duds which fell on England.

The Air Technical Service Command at Wright Field, the army's gigantic aviation laboratory, formally announced re-creation of the "Buss" bombs and disclosed that the Ford Motor Company already had produced jet impulse engines for the robots "for further experiments."

Maj. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers, ATSC deputy director, explained here that the American version of the robots was "not a copying job because we have no interest in a weapon which destroys at random."

Reds Broaden Prussian Attack And Continue Drive in Balkans

LONDON, Oct. 23.—(P)—Russian troops have captured the East Prussian highway center of Goldap, 18 miles inside Germany, and have broadened their offensive along the entire eastern boundary of the province, the German communists said today.

"Deep penetrations" in Nazi lines between Goldap and Suwalki were acknowledged.

The Germans said the front now was 150 airline miles long from besieged Memel, northernmost German claimed city, and Augustow in the Suwalki sector at the southeast corner of East Prussia.

At the extreme tip of the eastern front, the Russians on the Arctic Sea pulled up to the border of Norway on a wide front within striking distance of the Norwegian iron export harbor of Kirkenes, a German submarine base posing a constant threat to the Murmansk and Archangel convoy routes to Russia.

Nazi Collaborationists Put On Trial in France

By GLADWIN HILL
PARIS, October 23.—(P)—A vast special judicial machinery has been set up on a nationwide basis to handle the purge. Altogether some 254 courts with one or more judges presiding over each are being established by the Ministry of Justice and they are expected to begin operation all over France within two weeks.

Last Monday 1,451 collaboration case investigations were begun by a panel of special magistrates who form the second phase of the purge system—between the initial arrests and formal trials.

Although military tribunals all over France have been condemning hundreds to death for overt acts of treason, the more subtle acts of "collaboration" will be tried by civil courts with judge and jury—including women for the first time in French history.

The first defendant is George Suarez, veteran Paris journalist, who served as director of the German sponsored daily newspaper "Aujourd'hui" and who is alleged to have been paid $15,000 monthly for his services.

His fate—which may be the firing squad—if he is convicted—will furnish some precedent for the trials of hundreds of other prominent pre-war writers accused of working for Nazi domination.

RICHARD BENNETT IS DEAD IN LOS ANGELES

Matinee Idol Was Father of Constance and Joan

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—(P)—Death has taken Richard Bennett, a stage idol and screen character actor famed for a sharp and witty tone that enabled him to reprimand inattentive audiences and have them like it.

His daughters, Constance and Joan Bennett, film actresses, were at his hospital bedside when he succumbed yesterday at 72 after a long series of heart attacks.

Barbara, a third daughter, was reported on her way here from New York.

He insisted that film acting, with its short "takes," required no special talent for sustained drama and that all the best acting was done in the cutting room.

Himself, thrice-married, Bennett and his daughters figured in 11 marriages and nine divorces.

Filipinos Cheer as Complete Liberation Foreseen and Gen. MacArthur Promises Revenge Against Japs for Brutal Treatment of Prisoners—Fierce Nip Counterattacks At Leyte Are Repulsed

(By the Associated Press)

Constitutional government under the American flag formally was restored to the Philippines today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur while warfare still surged near Tacloban, the temporary capital.

Cheers of liberated Filipinos mingled with speeches by General MacArthur and President Sergio Osmena.

"We are here in this capital city of the province of Leyte," said MacArthur, "to establish under the protection of American arms the foundations of your commonwealth government and thereby initiate the restoration to the Philippine peoples of the sacred right of self rule."

He announced all laws of the Philippine commonwealth government, again "are in full force and effect and legally binding upon the peoples of the areas of the Philippines free of enemy occupation and control."

General MacArthur introduced President Osmena who, with six members of his cabinet, landed behind U. S. liberation forces on Leyte beach. They came from the United States.

Yanks Advancing

Behind steadily advancing American combat troops, Leyte island in the central Philippines is being transformed today into a great base for Gen. MacArthur's campaign to avenge Bataan, and the site of the first constitutional government in the Archipelago in more than two and a half years.

At Dulag and the temporary Philippines capital of Tacloban, engineers were converting two captured airfields into advanced bases for U. S. land-based bombers and fighters.

Carrier planes and aircraft based outside the Philippines were steadily hammering enemy air bases and transport centers throughout the islands. In the days of pre-invasion and invasion-supporting blows they have destroyed more than 1,500 enemy planes—equivalent to a month's production for Nipponese factories.

Japs Fight Savagely

After several small but fierce Japanese counterattacks, and stubborn resistance in the center of the line where warships moved in close to the shore to knock out enemy strong points, MacArthur said his "ground forces are steadily extending their positions on all fronts, while back of the lines a great base for all arms for future operations" was being developed.

The enemy has been virtually cut off from sea reinforcements and their remaining airforce was

De Gaulle Committee Recognized By Allies

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23.—(P)—that most of France, including Paris, has been designated by Allied military authorities as an "interior zone" in which the French authorities have complete responsibility.

This interior zone covers everything except the combat areas and points essential to combat supply.

The action of recognition completely changes the basis of relations between France and the Allied powers—the United States, Britain and Russia. De Gaulle, instead of ranking only as the leader of a "de facto" authority, now ranks as chief of government and head of state, approximating the positions held by President Roosevelt, Marshal Stalin and Prime Minister Churchill.

Dead Cow Guidemark in Germany

Doughboy Gets Lost and Winds Up Among Heines—Another Tries Out Gun and Shoots Nazis Out of Hedge

By HAL BOYLE
WITH AN AMERICAN ARMORED UNIT IN GERMANY, Oct. 13.—(Delayed)—(P)—You learn to use all kinds of guidemarks to find your path in this hostile country.

Lt. Thomas D. Rodman of Sparta, Ill., a reconnaissance officer who has been out in front all the way across France, Belgium and into Germany was out checking patrols recently. It was so dark he could hardly see the end of his rifle.

Stumbling back into the command post sometime before midnight he complained:

"Damn those engineers. They went and buried that old dead cow and smoothed out the road where I have been turning left and I didn't smell him and wandered all over the place before I could find him."

Lt. E. Hulen Denton of Casper, Wyoming, had a more dangerous experience as a result of tampering "by person or persons unknown" with the road signs along the German-Holland border.

"He left at night to go to the command posts of some forward troops," said Lt. Robert M. Batley of Detroit, Ill., "and he noted by the map that its position had not been changed. But the signs

BITTER FIGHTING RAGES IN AREA NEAR ANTWERP

Yanks Getting Set for Drive On Saar Basin—Big Push Awaits Crack in Defense

By WILLIAM FRYE
(By the Associated Press)

Six Allied armies pounded the tight-drawn Nazi defense band from Holland to Switzerland's border today with an unceasing pressure aimed at opening the eventual cracks that will permit a smash to Berlin.

The rain of blows was not yet a grand coordinated offensive, but it was intended to hammer the enemy line ever thinner and to mask the timing and place of the main attack.

The assault was on against the shrinking south Schelde pocket west of Antwerp, the Breda box north of Antwerp, the hard-held doorway from Aachen, the upper entrance of the Saar valley, and the sharp-cloven Vosges passes.

The British Second Army, striking in three columns on a 12-mile front from the western side of its Holland salient, drove to within three to five miles of the prize communications hub of S-Hertogenbosch.

Canadians Near Antwerp

The Canadian army swept on from Eschen on the Dutch-Belgian border, 16 miles north of Antwerp, after an 11-mile advance in two days, and hammered methodically toward Roosendaal, four miles ahead.

The strikes here, which were assuming the proportions of a general offensive to clear the sea lanes to Allied-held Antwerp as a supply port, had pressed the Germans from two sides into the Breda box—a 40 by 20-mile rectangle below the Maas (Meuse).

The Canadians were about to outflank the German coastal anchor at Bergen OP Zoom, four miles ahead.

West of Antwerp the Canadian capture of Breskens and Fort Frederik-Hendrik, a mile farther west, an old fortress modernized by the Germans. On the south side of the pocket, the Canadians took Schoonselijke, pinching the Germans into a canal-sliced area of only five by eight miles.

The German hold on the Schelde fast was slipping with the capture of the controlling enemy guns at Breskens and Fort Frederik-Hendrik. Only one battery—there were three two days ago—remained in action in the Vlissingen (Flushing) area on the north side of the estuary after Allied heavy-bomber attacks.

200 FEARED KILLED IN CLEVELAND BLAST

Ruins Still To Hot To Work Properly

CLEVELAND, Oct. 23.—(P)—Coroner Samuel R. Gerber estimated today that "possibly 200 persons met death as liquid gas explosions and flames laid waste an east side area one-half mile square.

The number of known dead in last Friday's disaster reached 99 today, with more than 100 persons listed as missing, 49 of them East Ohio Gas Co. employees.

"On present evidence, the death list will total possibly 200," said Dr. Gerber, who is directing recovery operations at the scene. This estimate previously was mentioned by Chairman Stanley Orr of the Cleveland Red Cross chapter.

"The ruins are still too hot and dangerous to work properly," Dr. Gerber declared.

Another 49 men, women and children still were under treatment in hospitals. Seven remained in critical condition.

Mayor Frank J. Lausche set up the board of inquiry, half of the members of which are chemists and engineers at Case School of Applied Science, shortly before he and Red Cross officials revised final plans for a relief

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
(Substituted for DeWitt MacKenzie)

MacArthur's dramatic and successful return to the Philippines breaks the back of the Allied task in the Pacific, since the battle for these islands is the prelude to the final struggle for Japan itself; without the Philippines the Mikado's ill-got empire of conquests will fall to pieces.

Once the American forces have overrun Leyte, which is strategically situated almost in the heart of the Archipelago, and have established powerful air-bases, they will be able to sweep the rest of the islands with bombers. Today's reports show our men firmly established and smashing ahead with the job of clearing the island. The Japanese 16th Division, the barbarians who tortured so many Yankee boys to death on Bataan, have taken to the hills—and wait until we get at 'em!

General MacArthur declares in his proclamation to the Filipinos that the Americans have come as "liberators for the entire Philippine Archipelago." How he will proceed in the liberation is the secret of the high command, but presumably he will move northward into the great island of Luzon, unless developments change the picture. Luzon, whereon lies Manila, is the key which can unlock the Mikado's defenses.

From this most northern of the Philippines the Allies can dominate Japan's communications to her essential war supplies—like rubber and oil—in the East Indies. They can, by the same token, cut off from the homeland hundreds of thousands of Japanese troops in Indonesia and Burma. They can neutralize her powerful air-naval base of Formosa, which is one of the chief shields of Nippon. They can reach the south-east coast of China to establish bases to aid the hard-hit Chinese, and from these bases they can send bombers to rip at the vitals of Japan.

All that sounds mighty good—and it is good. However, let's not permit it to mislead us. As things now stand, it's a bloody route to Tokyo. The conquest of the Philippines in itself bids fair to be one of the greatest engagements of the entire World War.

That much is certain. The fight may also prove to be, not only tough but long. However, the length of the war depends on developments and is highly speculative. It doesn't necessarily follow that we shall have a long war simply because it's a tough one.

Anyway, whether it's long or short there's this satisfaction to be got out of the necessity of dismembering the Japanese empire bit by bit—when we've finished with these savages, who would conquer the whole Orient, they'll be impotent to make war for generations.

While we are talking about taking the Mikado's empire to pieces, it's important to note that, coincident with the American invasion of the Philippines, London announced that part of a British fleet strong enough to deal with the whole Japanese Navy was en route to the Far East. So much for recent speculation as to

SCOTTISH RITE BANQUET HERE ON WEDNESDAY

Masonic Dignitaries from Valley of Columbus To Be Honor Guests

Scottish Rite Masons here today were putting the finishing touches on plans for a banquet at the Country Club Wednesday evening honoring officers and fraternal relations committee members of the Valley of Columbus.

There are 75 members of the Scottish Rite in Fayette County and the committee chairman said about 70 of them were expected to be present to welcome the visiting high dignitaries of the Masonic order. Among those expected to take the seats of honor at the banquet table are: John Powell, 33rd commander in chief of the Scioto Consistory; David B. Sharp, 33rd degree, M.W.M. Rose Croix; Judge Cecil B. Randall, 33rd degree M.P.J.; Robert Pausch, 33rd degree, T.W.M. Lodge of Perfection; L. Ewing Jones, 33rd degree, chairman of fraternal relations committee; Harry Carson, 32nd degree, member of fraternal relations committee; Allen Pyne, 32nd degree, member of fraternal relations committee; Allen W. Williams, 33rd degree, past potentate of Aladdin Temple Shrine and George R. Schoedinger, 33rd degree, who will be the speaker of the evening.

Belford F. Carpenter is the general chairman of the meeting with Colin C. Campbell and John Leland the other members of the committee. William M. Campbell is chairman of the reception committee of Hoy Simons, Ray Brandenburg, Wert Shoop, Glenn Woodmansee and Frank Jackson. The finance committee of Earl Parker and A. W. Duff is headed by Colin C. Campbell, and Leland and Carpenter are in charge of the invitations.

Stanley Schneider, A. B. Murray and Harold Maddux are on the committee headed by Ed Suntheimer which has charge of the banquet arrangements.

whether the British intend to see the war against Japan through to a finish. Of course they do. There never was any legitimate doubt of it.

Great preparations are under way in India for the all-out war against Japan. In this connection it has been disclosed that there are two and a quarter million Indian troops under arms, ready for action. With the end of the rainy monsoon season operations in Burma and the Bay of Bengal are picking up. Note the British three day assault on the important Nicobar Islands which are held by the Japs and must be occupied to pave the way for more extensive operations.

These developments are tremendously heartening for the gallant Chinese, who are hanging on by the skin of their teeth.

leading to it had. "Denton drove seven miles following the signs and knew he was going too far. He stopped and lit his flashlight at an intersection to try to find his way and the Germans opened up on him with three rifles and one burp gun. He had driven right past our lines into enemy territory. "He put out his flashlight, jumped into the jeep and escaped. Later we checked and found the direction of four signs leading to the command post had been changed. There have been several such instances."

Out Jumped Two Nazis
Pvt. Ray Towson, Cleveland, Ohio, reconnaissance motorcycle rider, wanted to see if his carbine was working properly. He was only a short distance from the bivouac area so he fired a test bullet into a hedge. Out came two Germans with their hands held high and their knees shaking. They led the surprised private to two more Germans and he brought all four in.

No telling how many he might have got with aimed fire.

So a Silver Star
Sgt. Guy W. Sanborn of South

Minneapolis, Minn., is wearing the silver star because he was too stubborn to obey an order to withdraw during hot battle action to a better position.

He would not pull back with the rest of his light machine gun squad because he was treating a wounded comrade. He stuck to his task through heavy enemy small arms fire. Then disregarding the bullets kicking the earth around him, he picked up the wounded man and carried him 50 yards over open ground to shelter.

Now he has a medal to remember that walk.

Morale Booster
The Army's cooperation with the press in getting back to America newspapers stories on the activities of individual soldiers is bearing fruit in improved morale.

Most troop commanders know what a boost it is to both officers and men to see their name in print in the home town paper. It makes them feel they're appreciated by the community they left behind.

FARM QUESTIONS TAKE POLITICAL SPOTLIGHT AS DEWEY GOES TO MIDWEST

the second vital issue. He has spoken for a strong international security organization, but in each speech has so worded his commitment that both isolationists and internationalists could find comfort and support in what he said. A substantial part of his support is talking straight isolationist doctrine to the country.

President Speaks
"We either work with the other great nations, or we might some day have to fight them," Mr. Roosevelt told the Foreign Policy Association.

That speech climaxed a day of old-time campaigning in New York City, part of a plan for an aggressive wind-up of his fourth term campaign in whose later stages the president is following much the same lines as his success-bearing strategy of 1940.

Mr. Roosevelt may speak in Chicago Saturday night; another address is expected in Boston, probably November 4, Cleveland, the last stop on his 1940 schedule, may also see him within the final two weeks.

Republican Chairman Brownell said in a statement at New York that the president's foreign policy speech tried "to read the Republican party out of the union" but that since Pearl Harbor the people "have increasingly turned to the Republican party for vigorous and competent leadership."

From Rochester, N. Y., Publisher Frank Gannett of the Gannett newspapers telegraphed President Roosevelt that he was guilty of "gross misrepresentation" in calling the Gannett papers "isolationist."

Other developments of a presidential campaign.

CIO Chair Philip Murray told political action committee workers at Pittsburgh that statements calling the PAC communistic and subversive are lies "and the people who formulate those statements know they are lying."

Bricker in Wyoming
Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, Dewey's running mate, traveled into Wyoming and Colorado, added in a prepared speech released by his campaign staff.

"There is a vital need in Washington for greater control over the spending of taxpayers' money. This will not be done by an administration drunk with power and bent upon making another broadcast that while he is not satisfied "with the pronouncements or commitments" of either Mr. Roosevelt or Gov. Dewey, he is impressed with what he called the president's "firm and tangible steps taken in the direction of mutual peace."

Willkie Question
The question of which presidential candidate, Willkie, would have supported emerged today as one of the most engrossing political mysteries of the 1944 campaign.

Willkie, originally a Democrat, commanded the greatest voting appeal of any Republican presidential candidate in history as GOP presidential standard bearer in 1940. Thus, the significance of the question lies in the possibility that if Willkie had taken a stand on the presidential race he may have influenced enough of the 22,304,755 Willkie voters of 1940 to have decided the election Nov. 7.

The question may remain forever unanswered.

Mrs. Edith Wilk Willkie, his widow, said in a statement at her Rushville home:

"I am sure he had not made his decision."

The executive board of the steelworkers' union said in closing a convention at Pittsburgh that Dewey is backed by steel manufacturers who "have clawed at labor organizations with a ferocious desire to destroy them."

Bricker Hits Spending
Gov. Bricker, urging greater control over the use of taxpayers' money, asserted today that government corporations had spent huge sums never appropriated by Congress.

This, said the Republican candidate for vice president, is in conformity with practices by which "the New Deal has constantly sought to rob Congress of its control over government spending."

The Ohio governor, campaigning in Wyoming and Colorado, added in a prepared speech released by his campaign staff: "There is a vital need in Washington for greater control over the spending of taxpayers' money. This will not be done by an administration drunk with power and bent upon making another

GORDON BROWN AMONG MISSING

Mrs. Paty Roe Brown Gets Official Message

Mrs. Paty Roe Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Heber Roe of this city, Saturday received a wire from the War Department, announcing that her husband, Technical Sergeant Gordon P. Brown, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon P. Brown of Fairfield, has been missing in action over Yugoslavia, since October 7.

Sgt. Brown had been with a bomber outfit as an engineer, and was stationed in Italy for about one month before he failed to return from a mission over Yugoslavia.

Whether his plane was shot down and he escaped by parachute is not known.

Mrs. Brown and 10-month-old daughter, Sandra Elea, were visiting her husband's parents at Fairfield when she received the word.

Guaranteed Starting Has "Gone to War" in '44

To the thousands of Ohio car owners who have enjoyed its protection during the past eight years . . . to the thousands more who would have wanted their aging cars guaranteed to start this winter . . . we make this announcement with real regret. We want you to know why wartime conditions do not permit it this year. Here are the reasons . . .

Uncle Sam is getting the best gasoline

Because of military needs, the quality of all gasoline for home front use has been reduced, by order of the government.

We can't promise you garage-starting service

Ours was a real guarantee . . . based on your engine being started by a garage in the event of starting trouble. Unfortunately, since garages and repair shops are so busy and short-handed, no one can assure prompt starting service today.

You can still get the Sohio services that helped make our guarantee possible: Sohio Motor Oil—change to winter-grade; Sohio Gear Oil—winter-grade; in transmission and differential; battery test and regular checking.

Men in Newsreels
The honored American custom of watching movie newsreels has taken on a new twist lately. In the old, pre-war days, such reels were of specific persons or groups of persons. Unless one had a son on the Yaphank college football team, or a daughter in the local fruit festival parade, one could look on with an air of complete detachment.
Today, who knows when the latest view of dropping bombs will merge into one of marching files of Yanks, perhaps of home boys? Father, mother and sweet-heart slide to the edges of their seats in anxious scrutiny of the faces on tanks in Europe, or beaches in New Guinea.
If they find a familiar one, it is with a sense of peace and joy that they leave the theatre. Maybe they know that there are only about so many facial and physical types, even among Americans. The chances are it wasn't really Johnny. But it looked like him. And they can dream, can't they?

Voting for Man or Policies
Every presidential year each of the two major political parties must have a candidate for President. Each party insists that its candidate is better qualified than his opponent for the highest seat in the nation.
The nation divided into two political divisions is again following the old custom, striving to elect one of two men. If either of these two men, for some reason, should drop out of the race, a substitute would take his place. The substitute's party would insist that he was a better man than his opponent. A small percentage of the whole will vote for a man. The man is Mr. Roosevelt, who has attracted many personal admirers. But if his election depended upon the votes of his admirers, his defeat as a fourth-term candidate would be conceded. There aren't enough admirers. Nor does Dewey have enough personal admirers to win.

When we realize the truth—that the majority of the people will actually be voting for something else and not for a man, it is remarkable—perhaps we may call it startling—the revelation that almost one half of the people of the country WANT NOTHING, and will vote against a man whose hope for reelection is based upon his reputation as a generous distributor of gifts.
They want nothing except release from the ever-tightening bonds of a system that has made them feel that practically every action in their daily lives is controlled. They want to rid themselves of the growing fear of national socialism. The realization that perhaps more than half of the people have joined in a revolt against the dreamers who would change all American traditions "over night," must thrill the real American.

There are supporters of Mr. Roosevelt who want nothing, we concede. They are the small percentage of personal admirers; the only people who are actually voting for the man. They have confidence in the man, and they believe they can place the welfare of their country in his hands. That is their privilege. We may differ with them, but we have no right to abuse them.
It would be generous for anti-New Dealers to concede that these admirers represent a third of Mr. Roosevelt's supporters, probably the percentage is smaller. Deducting these admirers, we are left with a large percent of the voters that will vote for Mr. Roosevelt, but not for the MAN. This percent represents the political jobholders, the union workers led by labor leaders, the Communists and other radicals. They are not supporting Mr. Roosevelt, the man; they would support any other man whose election would be expected to benefit THEM.

We have no right to abuse the sincere admirers of Mr. Roosevelt, but we can suggest that they ask themselves where they really belong—on the side of the voters who want NOTHING but American freedom, or on the side with the percent that is willing to sacrifice everything that has made America what she is, so long as they can get WHAT THEY WANT, PERSONALLY.

Mud-slinging
The term, "mud-slinging" is with us again and is being mouthed daily in criticism of candidates for office. Too often if a speech doesn't please—or maybe strikes home—it is classed as "just mud-slinging."
What is "mud-slinging"? Webster fails to define it. Literally, it is the hurling of mud, dirt, and filth that bespatters the recipient. Politically, it is the hurling of charges that are untrue, misleading, or unfair, and which besmirch an opposing candidate.
Before crying "mud-slinging," one should weigh what has been said. Is it true? Is it taking unfair advantage? If the answers are "yes" and "no," then it can hardly be called "mud-slinging."
Think before using this overworked term. Try to distinguish it from honest and needed statements of fact. The word is too often used as is much profanity—either thoughtlessly or for lack of an adequate vocabulary.

Washington at a Glance

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — No event in this presidential campaign has caused more "iffy" speculation than the sudden death of Wendell L. Willkie.
In recent days I have had close associates of Willkie tell me that he planned to come out flatfooted for President Roosevelt. I have had equally close associates may that he planned to back Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, with reservations. They retailed Willkie's statement this way: "I'm going to vote for Dewey because he is a Republican and I am, but I will fight to the last ditch to see that my policies for world peace are adopted."
Which statement is true probably never will be known now, unless the 1940 GOP standard-bearer left a written memo indicating his state of mind.
What makes it important is that Willkie did have a following—a substantial one. His political career was a phenomenon. Without ever having sought public office before, he

The Modern Hearing Aids
By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
THE FIRST hearing aid was the palm of the hand cupped behind the ear. It is still the most universal hearing aid and for good reasons.
The first reason, of course, is obviously that it gathers in a larger number of sound waves and directs them to the ear. This causes the conduction part of the hearing apparatus to vibrate more. The fundamental fact for the deafened person to understand about hearing aids is that the fundamental trouble with the chronically deafened is that the conduction apparatus is stiff and does not vibrate in a normal way.
The hearing organ is solidly placed in a heavy bone and it responds to vibrations coming to it through the air. But it responds to any vibrations and some vibrations get to it through the bone—normally all the time. This bone conduction function can be improved with practice and on that depends much of the success of modern hearing aids.
Principle of Hearing Aids
The cupped hand was the first hearing aid, and was the principle of most hearing aids, such as the ear trumpet, until very recently when the enormous improvement of the modern electric hearing aid replaced nearly every other kind. Essentially the electric hearing aid transmits sound waves into electric energy by the transmitter, and then reconverts the electric energy into sound energy by the receiver which is placed over the bone so that bone conduction can be utilized.
Air conduction receivers can be used also for those who do better with air than bone conduction. There is a third part of the apparatus which is the amplifier, which increases or regulates the amount of the type electric energy which will produce sound at the expense of a battery.
But there was a second func-

Diet and Health

The Modern Hearing Aids
The primitive hand-cupping hearing device accomplished which too many deafened people forget. It was a signal. It told the world—"I can't hear you very well. Speak louder."
I say many deafened people forget that because they are so often ashamed or embarrassed by having to wear a hearing aid. They try to conceal it among the dress folds and all this and that when as a matter of fact one of the greatest helps they could have would be to make it as conspicuous as the old man's cupped hand. Then people would talk to them instead of away from them and also catch the voice so it could be heard better.
Most deafened people can hear a high pitched voice better than a low tone. One of the things that surprise parents about children who are found to be partially deaf only when they first enter school is that they never suspected the child was deaf because it would sit and listen endlessly to the radio. The high pitched radio is the only sort of sound these people can hear.
This psychology of the deaf is one of the hardest handicaps in helping them. There is something about the situation that makes them resentful and shy. A deaf person is always more unhappy than a blind person, as any ear doctor can tell you. People with partial visual defects are proud of all their little gadgets—lorgnons and gold glasses cases, and some Europeans even like to make themselves conspicuous with monocles.
Even with all the troubles of being deaf there occurs to me every now and then one of the three improvements my old friend, Dr. Adrian Gibbs, would make on Nature—that we could shut our ears sometimes as we do our eyes.

WOLF IN MAN'S CLOTHING

SYNOPSIS
When Drue Cable, attractive young nurse, learned her former husband, Craig Brent, was the victim of a so-called accidental bullet wound, she persuaded her friend and fellow nurse, Sarah Keate, to answer with her the call made by Dr. Claud Chivery from a small New England town. Sarah was unaware of Drue's previous connection with the Brent family which included Craig's father, arrogant Conrad Brent; Alexia, Conrad's glamorous young wife who, at one time, had hoped to marry Craig; Nicky Senour, Alexia's twin brother; and Peter Huber, friend of Craig. Anna Haub, maid at the Brent mansion, told how Craig was found unconscious in the garden the previous night, adding, "Believe me, the butler, said it was an accident—Mr. Craig was cleaning a gun." Alexia ordered Drue to leave before Conrad Brent discovered her presence. Drue tells Sarah the strange story of her romance with Craig. They had met and married more than a year ago when she had nursed him back to health following an auto accident. When Craig brought his bride home, Conrad Brent made no effort to conceal his disapproval. Craig's work in the diplomatic service made it necessary for him to go to Washington, and Drue returned to New York. Shortly after, she received a letter from Conrad (which he claimed Craig had asked him to write) stating his son had resigned his post to enter training as an aviator, only to discover married men were ineligible. Conrad said Craig wished Drue to divorce him, but promised they could remarry, with paternal blessing, when the training period was over. Drue got the divorce but never received any reply to the many letters she wrote Craig. Now, she is determined not to leave until Craig regains consciousness and can talk with her. Drue dashes from the room when Nicky Senour enters. Sarah is telling the story.
CHAPTER SEVEN
The word Alexia gave me the clue; he was amazingly like her. This must be the twin brother, Nicky.
He said, "Where is Drue?" and tried to look over my shoulder into the room.
I took my fountain pen and my thermometer. "Sorry," I said, "I'm just going to my patient."
He moved aside to permit me to step into the hall. As I turned along it toward the big bedroom where the sick man lay, he dodged along with me as gracefully as a panther and about as welcome. I'm bound to say that I instantly added Nicky Senour to my rapidly growing list of dislikes in the Brent house. He was watching me with a gleam of bright curiosity in his face.
"I say, you know," he said, "Drue can't stay here. She's got to leave. You must make her leave."
I had reached the door to my patient's room. I opened it and turned to Nicky Senour and all but hissed, "If I stay, she stays," and closed the door on his handsome but startled face.

There was no change in Craig Brent's pulse or breathing. I didn't want to rouse him, then, to take his temperature. He had an intelligent and sensitive face and, from the nose and chin, a will of his own; but his behaviour had shown anything but that.
I thought of the gaps in Drue's story. It was brief; it was necessarily elliptical. Obviously there were only two alternatives by way of explanation; either Craig had repented his hasty marriage and ended it in that way (in which case she was well rid of him, but that wouldn't help Drue just then), or there was actually dirty work at work.
The other man was a state trooper in beautiful brownish gray uniform with bars on his sleeve. I must say, though, that the uniform was not a welcome sight.
I got to my feet. The doctor and the policeman (a lieutenant, I thought, by the bars) came straight to the bed. The doctor glanced at me once absentmindedly, and they both looked down at my patient for a long moment. Then the doctor said, "Nobody could have shot him. Nobody could have shot him. It was an accident, I tell you." And the policeman said, "I'll have some crossroads. In that case, a few words between Drue and the man before me would clear up a lovers' misunderstanding.
But nothing in her brief account of her almost equally brief marriage even touched upon a question that was beginning to assert itself more and more ominously in my mind. Definitely there was something fishy about the story of the shooting. So Craig Brent had been shot, intentionally, with murderous design; then why? And, furthermore, who?
Anna rose from the armchair across the room, within the curtained niche where old-fashioned bay windows made a semi-circular little room of their own. She had been crying and was wiping her eyes. I went to her and said a little sharply, "You can go. I'll stay now."
When she had gone, I pulled a chair up near the bed where I could watch for the faintest shadow of a change in Craig Brent's face. The brown was sunburn; under the tan his face was a kind of gray. I was sitting like that with my fingers on his lean brown wrist when the door opened and two men walked quietly into the room and closed the door behind them. One was the doctor. I had never seen Dr. Chivery before, but a kind of aristocratic spruceness about him identified him at once. He was a short, gray man with no chin, slender, except for a little watermelon in front, and

His reports are published in the Record-Herald through the courtesy of the Ohio State Journal.
By ROBERT S. HARPER
SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA—Billeting is a big problem in base section and leave areas, but it is handled systematically by the military. This system relieves the newly arrived officers or the enlisted men and women of the worry of trying to find a place to stay and insures a bed and board with all the comforts available.
In the particular area that I observed, there are motor vehicles at the airports to meet all planes (mine was an attractive Australian woman) haul you into town and drop you off at the billeting office. After the necessary arrangements are made, gear are taken to the proper address and deposited neatly and quickly. From there on, it's up to you to make your own way.
Hotels and rooming houses are under direction of billeting officials. In most of them, you cannot obtain an accommodation for a night unless you have a little piece of paper from the billeting office that identifies you and approves your application for the quarters.
The places are plain, but comfortable, with plenty of nourishing food, but no matter how plain, they are palaces to men just out of the island jungles.
For those "going in," it is the last touch of civilization. These billets afford a complete service to take care of their guests. They arrange for laundry and dry cleaning service, a luxury indeed for the travel-stained and weary. In fact, they are everything a hotel is in normal times, except for the military supervision of guests.
At breakfast one morning there were four of us at the table, three officers and myself. As usual when men out here first start to talk, the opening shot was: "Where are you from?"
The young fellow opposite me started to grin when I gave my name and address. "I went to Ohio State," he said.
He was Lt. Carl M. Stewart of the U. S. Air Forces, who was graduated in the Class of 1941. He is a member of Sigma Delta Chi.
He said he read The Ohio State Journal, but he hadn't seen a copy for a long time. He entered the service in April of 1942 and on Sept. 4 completed two years overseas, all of this time having been served in New Guinea's jungles. He won his commission after he came overseas, a fact about which he seemed to be very proud.
At Ohio State, Stewart studied journalism and business administration and spoke affectionately of "Jimmy" Pollard (Dr. James E. Pollard, head of the school of journalism).
Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Stewart, lived at Youngstown while he attended Ohio State. They have since moved to Warren, O., where his father works in the composing room of The Tribune-Chronicle.

SPEAKERS FOR CONFERENCE ON NOV. 2 CHOSEN

Both Sessions of Peace
Meeting Are Open to The Public

Speakers assigned by the Ohio Council of Churches to Fayette county for the Peace Conference to be held on Thursday November 2 at the First Presbyterian Church in Washington C. H. are Rev. Kenneth S. Leary, pastor of the Methodist Church at Van Wert; Rev. C. L. Johnson, pastor of the Wilson Avenue Church of Christ at Columbus, and Rev. R. G. Scully, pastor of the Methodist Church at Cincinnati. Rev. H. B. Twining, county director for the conference, said Saturday.

The conference will include afternoon and evening sessions. Rev. H. B. Twining states, with the afternoon session starting at 2 o'clock, and the evening session beginning at 7:30.

Talks and discussions at the conference will serve to help those who attend get a clearer understanding of the problems of establishing a just and enduring peace and the part that local people can have in bringing it about and maintaining it, Rev. Twining said.

The conference is open to everyone, and Rev. Twining urges all churches and communities to have as many representatives present as possible. Those who attend will have an opportunity to have a voice in formulating a "Victory Program for the Churches of Ohio."

Similar conferences are being held simultaneously throughout the counties of the state, and the speakers for this county will also participate in conferences in Greene and Champaign counties during the week.

Copies of a booklet, "Peace Aims of the Church," just prepared by the Public Affairs Department of the Ohio Council of Churches, will be available at the conference, Rev. Twining reports.

THIS IS HARD, PHYSICAL LABOR!

Darning socks can consume as much energy as digging a ditch! And today, because of war, many old eyes that should be resting, are working overtime.

Few people realize how much energy can be wasted through needless eyestrain. Nor how easy it is to avoid eyestrain, even though you may be patriotically trying to conserve electricity. Here are four simple rules which will help conserve eyes and energy.

1 Do all reading, studying, sewing, or game-playing close to a good light source, preferably a modern reading lamp.

2 Avoid glare from bare bulbs. Don't sit facing the light. Glare strains eyes.

3 Avoid shadows. Make sure you have good light directly on your book or work. Shadows strain eyes.

4 Have eyes examined regularly. If eyes are defective, vision can be greatly helped with proper glasses.

When the war is over we are going to have Better Light for Better Sight. In the meantime, let's conserve both eyesight and light. Take care of your eyes, but don't waste light.

LETTERS COME FROM HOSPITALS TO RED CROSS

Wash Cloths, Christmas Items
Sent to Crile and Ashford
Military Hospitals

The Red Cross chapter here today has two letters from two military hospitals thanking Washingtonians for wash cloths and Christmas items sent from here not long ago.

Ashford General Hospital at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., wrote this letter after 75 wash cloths were sent there: "Your recent shipment of handmade wash cloths arrived here promptly Thursday. Already some of these fine wash cloths have been issued to some of our soldier-patients. They have found them particularly nice to use. They certainly appreciate the time and effort that went into making them. Will you please see that the ladies of your production corps are made aware of the real comfort and pleasure which their work has given patients at this hospital."

Other women who are making the wash cloths now are Mrs. Madge McCrea, Mrs. Ralph Michael, Mrs. Bell Millikan, Mrs. Sherman Murry, Mrs. William E. Craig, Mrs. H. E. Roseboom, Mrs. Bess Briggs, Miss Druseilla Rogers, Miss Anna Passmore, Mrs. Ida

Snyder and Mrs. Maude Coffman.

Surplus articles left from packing the last shipment of kit bags were sent to Crile Hospital in Cleveland, Miss Mary D. Robinson, secretary of home service, said. A letter from there reads: "On behalf of the chapter committee of camp and hospital council service, may I express deep gratitude for your generous contribution, a box of Christmas needs for the patients of Crile. You may rest assured that they will very much appreciate the pleasure this gift makes possible for them."

VACCINATION CURBS RABIES

Alabama Method Is Being Considered in Ohio

New promise of success in controlling rabies, which caused numerous deaths this year in widespread outbreaks in many parts of the nation, including Ohio, is announced by the American Foundation for Animal Health.

The report, covering the six-year record of a fight against the disease in Alabama, indicates that steps taken under the Alabama plan are rapidly stamping out the disease there.

"In 1937 Alabama passed a law requiring that all dogs in the state must be vaccinated against rabies," the report states. "In that year 927 cases of rabies were identified in dogs, and 3,794 human rabies treatments were given. By 1939 there were only 237 identified rabies cases among dogs, and human treatments were reduced to 1,230. In 1942, forty-five Alabama counties reported no rabies, and only three counties reported more than isolated cases. By 1943, the disease had been reduced to 73 identifiable cases."

The Foundation has recommended that other states, where rabies has caused fatalities this year, give serious consideration to adopting the Alabama plan.

"Vaccination of all dogs as a preventive measure not only means saving the lives of many children and adults who would be victims of this disease, but is a humane measure to protect the lives of dogs and other pets as well," Foundation authorities said.

Shaping up NOW

—for the day when "Highways are Happy Ways" again!

Tomorrow's "dream bus" is much more than a dream. It is shaping up today, in full scale models that will soon be translated into gleaming fluted metal, curved plastic glass, new type chairs built for long-trip relaxation — many features of comfort and efficiency we can't even talk about now.

Super-Coaches like this are coming, sure as Victory. Greyhound will pioneer in their design and will make all possible speed in their construction — without relaxing, for one moment, its full-time job of carrying war manpower. These startling new buses will not only replace equipment overworked by the extreme pressure of wartime travel—they'll give eleven million returning Service men and women (and travel-hungry millions at home) a more delightful way to see and enjoy "This Amazing America." It all adds up to this: the day is on its way when "Highways are Happy Ways" again!

Vows Exchanged In Wilmington Saturday Evening

Mr. Samuel Renick of West Market Street, is announcing the marriage of his daughter, Oma Pauline, of Columbus, to Samuel Wilson Blackwood, son of Mr. John Blackwood, 1380 18th Avenue, Columbus. The single ring vows were exchanged in the Presbyterian Church parsonage, at Wilmington, Saturday afternoon, at four-thirty o'clock. Officiating was the Rev. William H. Graller.

The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dunaway of this city.

For her marriage the bride chose a two-piece frock of soldier blue with sequin trim, and with this she wore black accessories. Her flowers were a shoulder corsage of gardenias and pink rosebuds.

Mrs. Dunaway, as the bride's only attendant, wore a black ensemble, and her flowers were a corsage of yellow roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, the wedding party went to the Beverly Hills Club, in Kentucky, where the wedding dinner was served.

After spending the weekend in Cincinnati, the newly-weds are now at home to their friends at 2714 Hillbert Avenue, in Columbus.

The new Mrs. Blackwood attended Washington High School and St. Mary's of the Spring Academy, in Columbus. She has been employed at the Traveler's Insurance Company, in Columbus, and has resumed her duties with the company.

Mr. Blackwood is an airplane inspector at Curtis-Wright in Columbus.

Betty Peterson Is New Member of Radio Fraternity

Miss Betty Peterson, senior student at Ohio State University, Columbus, and oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Peterson, this city, has been elected to Alpha Epsilon Rho, honorary national radio fraternity, it was reported today.

Miss Peterson accompanied Cpl. Elwood Keister, of Ft. Hayes, Columbus, a tenor soloist, when they appeared together in a recital presented at the Baldwin-Wallace Conservatory of Music, in Berea, last week. They were guests that evening of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Riemenschneider, Mr. Riemenschneider being head of the music department of the conservatory.

On Sunday from four until four-thirty o'clock, Miss Peterson presents her own program on the organ, having written and arranged her organ program. Week days, she is heard on the "Farm and Home Hour," where she accompanies Dorothy McVitty Emic and Johnny Schmidt. On Tuesdays at one-thirty o'clock, Miss Peterson is heard on the "Once Upon a Time in Ohio," program.

Sunday Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Wilson and daughter, Kathleen, had as dinner guests, Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. William Myers, Mr. Floyd Myers, Mr. Leslie Kidder, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kidder, Mrs. W. L. Hallowe'en Dance To Be Enjoyed At High School

The senior class at WHS is sponsoring one of the first dances of this school year, Wednesday evening, in the high school gymnasium, from eight to eleven thirty o'clock. Money earned by the class from the 25 cent admission charge will go into the memorial fund for the organ stops which are to honor WHS servicemen.

Prizes will be awarded for the most outlandish costume couple, the cleverest costume couple and the group with the cleverest costumes. A jitterbug contest and a tap ballroom dancing elimination contest are scheduled also.

The gymnasium will be decorated with corn stalks and pumpkins. Cider and doughnuts will be served. Committees in charge of the dance are: prizes, Malcolm Bloomer, Ruth Engle and Jo Ann Pope; decorations, Ruth Adams, Ruth Ann Perrill and James Boylan; restoration, Richard Babb, Bill Kearny and Beverly Long; advertisement, Charles Baker, Janice Murray and Mary Lou Follis; refreshments, Richard Shoultz, Betty Zimmerman, Jean Willis and Charles Young.

Loyal Friends Class Elects New Officers

The Misses Iona and Iva Stoughton were hostesses to the Loyal Friends Class of the South Side Church of Christ at their home on Lakeview Avenue.

Due to the absence of the president, Mrs. Josephine Batson, Mrs. C. B. Tillis took charge of the business meeting. Mrs. Edward Cain read the scripture and offered prayer.

The Loyal Friends (mystery sisters) were revealed at this time and new names for the coming year were chosen. Election of officers resulted in Mr. C. B. Tillis as president; Mrs. Clinton Long, vice president; Mrs. Charles Jones, treasurer; and Mrs. J. G. Jordan, secretary.

The next meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Long, 819 Sycamore Street, on November 17, as it was decided to have meetings monthly the coming year.

During the social hour that followed the members were entertained by a quartet composed of Miss Beatrice Taylor, Mrs. Lavonne Creamer, Mr. Calvin Johnson and Dr. J. G. Jordan, who rendered several musical numbers, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson at the organ.

The hostesses served most delicious refreshments at the close of a most enjoyable evening.

Hallowe'en Dance To Be Monday At Country Club

Mr. and Mrs. Ormond Dewey are chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the annual Hallowe'en dance for members of the Country Club, to be held Monday evening, October thirtieth, it was announced today.

Assisting the Deweys are Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Limes, Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Terhune, Judge and Mrs. Otis B. Core.

The dancing will begin at nine o'clock, and members are asked to attend in "hard-times" clothing. A snack lunch will be served at a late hour.

The Russian language is spoken by 110,000,000 people throughout Soviet Russia, and also by about 4,000,000 Ruthenians in Czechoslovakia, Poland and Roumania.

Mrs. T. C. Kirk Hostess At Delightful Dinner

Mrs. T. C. Kirk, of near Jeffersonville, was hostess at a most delightful and informal dinner held at her home, when she brought together a group of friends, all of whom had attended country school together. During the dinner hour and the hours following, the guests greatly enjoyed recalling school-day memories for one another's pleasure.

Those present were Miss Nellie Wilson, Mrs. C. W. Larrimer, both of Bloomingburg, Mrs. E. F. Todhunter, this city, Mrs. Fred Lampe, Mrs. Herbert Porter and Mrs. G. L. Bush, Jeffersonville, and Mrs. A. C. Carr, South Charleston.

City Men and API Women In Closest Bowling Races

Although Hoff's Marketeers are holding a fairly long lead in the Men's City League bowling race, competition is developing which indicates that this circuit again will be the main attraction at the Main Street alleys during the winter season.

Sharing interest with it, however, is the API's Women's League which also has been marked by some close games.

Lloyd's Marketeers, who have not tasted defeat in the first three weeks of play, dominate the City Women's League while three unbeaten teams—the Office Boys, Tappets and Engineers—are making a romp of the API Men's League in which two teams, the Pushers and Top Hats, have not yet won a game.

The City Men's League underwent a shake-up last week when the Stone Crushers were tumbled out of second place and dropped into a tie with the Producers and Jeffersonville's Ringers for fourth. Mt. Sterling's representatives climbed into second with Pennington's Bakers close behind in third. Wical's Wonders held a slight edge over the never-say-die Slagle and Kirk outfit in the cellar.

The Gremlins were out in front in the API Women's League, but they were being crowded by the Gliders as they headed into the fourth week's rounds of games. The Flying Fortresses and Owls were tied for third with the P-38s close behind. The Helicopters and Aeronautes were tied for the sixth position while the Bombers brought up the rear.

With the unbeaten Marketeers out in front of the City Women's League, the interest in the loop centered on the next four teams—Farmerettes, Morris Store girls, Business and Professional Women and Fruits—all just two games apart after three weeks of competition. The Newgirls and Dairy maids were tied for sixth and the Murphy Store outfit was in the cellar.

Spying On Sports

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—A new (to us) bowling alibi was offered recently by Connie Constantine of Seattle, Wash.—he got "too hot." Trying to convert a spare on the last frame, Connie bumped his leg as he delivered the ball, ignited some matches in his pocket and dropped the ball. As a result, he missed the strike, a 200 game and a 600 series and his team lost by a single pin.

Capt. Lee C. Sonedecker, former Washington State basketball player, is claiming record of some sort for short tenure as a cage coach. The Keesler Field athletic training council voted recently to appoint Capt. DOC PARSHALL TO RETURN AS RACE DRIVER

Dr. Hugh M. Parshall, whose colorful and successful career as a trainer and driver of harness horses began in Washington C. H., where he won his first real race at the Fayette County Fair, is coming out of his brief retirement and returning to the sport in which he rose to the pinnacle as the nation's foremost reinsman.

"Doc," as he is familiarly known in the harness racing world, laid away his silks at the end of the 1943 season with the announcement that he was retiring as a driver to become a starter. But, after one year off the bike, he has decided to get back into the game. He was the starter at the Fair races here last July.

For several years after he gave up a budding career as a veterinarian, he trained his then small stable here at the Fairground. His success as driver and trainer increased the number of his horses to the place where his stable outgrew the accommodations. Efforts to build a barn big enough for his needs failed and he moved to Urbana where thousands came and went every year when his establishment became nationally known and a center of attraction for harness horse followers from far and wide. It is at Urbana where he will reestablish his training quarters.

Mrs. Thorne Smith, Millbrook, N. Y., has bought five yearlings for $16,000 and has turned them over to Dr. Parshall.

Parshall has them at Urbana, Ohio, where he is breaking them together with a home bred colt, also owned by Mrs. Smith, and another colt, owned by Parshall, Tom Billingsley of Greenville, Ohio, and Dr. H. K. Bailey of Wilmington, Ohio.

The yearlings purchased by Mrs. Smith together with their sires and dams and also their prices follow: Chief George, br. c., by Chief Counsel—Singletine, $3,500; Spencer Hall, br. c., by Spencer—Mabel Wink, $1,700; Argyle, b. c., by Scotland—Ruth's Baby, $3,200; Shanklin, b. c., by Volomite—Selka Abey, $5,600; Proteem, b. c., by Protector—Dreamlight, $1,700.

Jim Rees, Tackle For Great Lakes, Used To Live Here

Scores of football fans from Washington C. H. in Ohio Stadium Saturday felt they had something of a personal stake in the game between Ohio State's Bucks and the Sailors from Great Lakes. And, it was a stake that strained their loyalty to the Bucks—for most of them root for their own state school's team.

It was all because Jim Rees, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rees, was one of the tackles for the Great Lakes outfit. Jim lived in Washington C. H. when he was just a kid when his father was superintendent of the city schools.

Although the Rees family moved away from here more than 15 years ago, they kept up their old friendships with frequent visits. Mr. and Mrs. Rees and their son, John, now a navy flier, spent Friday night here before going to the game in Columbus Saturday.

Miami, Denison Are Tops in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The mythical Ohio college football championship, excluding Ohio State, of course, probably will be decided in Dayton Saturday.

Miami's Redskins and Denison's Big Red, the only two unbeaten eleven left among the small colleges, will clash in the Dayton engagement and it will be pretty difficult to convince the winner that it shouldn't be recognized as the best in the state.

Miami won its sixth straight without a defeat or a tie Saturday by thumping Murray (Ky.) Teachers, 26 to 14, and Denison won its sixth by walling Ohio Wesleyan, 33 to 6. The Big Red record is marred only by a tie with Oberlin.

His plaint coincided with MacArthur's cold warning that Imperial warlords would be held responsible for the brutal mistreatment of prisoners such as the "death march" perpetrated on Bataan prisoners by the present defenders of Leyte.

The Japanese drive toward the U. S. air base at Liuchow in Kwangsi Province was reported slowed today by Chinese counterattacks hurled at the enemy near Kweiping and Pingnam with the support of incessant assaults by the U. S. 14th Air Force.

The Chinese high command said Chinese troops had struck back Saturday against Japanese forces eight miles southwest of Kweiping and by nightfall had smashed their way into the enemy positions. On the same day other Chinese forces captured five enemy strongpoints near Pingnam. Kweiping is about 78 miles southeast of Liuchow and Pingnam is east and slightly north of Kweiping.

No change was noted in the situation at Kweilin, some 90 miles north of Liuchow. The Japanese last were reported 23 miles northeast of the city, former U. S. air base site.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Boxing the college football compass:

Midwest: Notre Dame, Ohio State, Purdue and Indiana rank as the Big Four with Iowa Pre-Flight, Illinois and Michigan not far behind. The Irish, although they yielded their first touchdowns of the year in beating Wisconsin by a 28 to 13 margin, may get their biggest test this weekend when they encountered Illinois' Speedsters, 28 to 5 victors over Pittsburgh.

Ohio State's beardless civilians, who entertain Minnesota Saturday, share Big Ten attention with Purdue following their 26 to 6 conquest of Great Lakes. The Boilermakers, who handled Iowa 26 to 7, come up against Michigan, which has had a two-weeks gridiron vacation. Iowa Pre-Flight has the week end off after piling into Fort Warren, 30 to 0, yesterday. Indiana plays Iowa.

Bucks Rated Among Best

By HAROLD CLAUSSEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The mysterious lady in red who has been getting in the hair of New England horse tracks by plunging on favorites to show returned to Rockingham Park Saturday.

The mysterious woman plunger, who has created several minus pools by her transactions, showed up just as track officials believed that publicity had scared her away.

She added to her earnings by wagering $7,000 that Pete's Bet would show in the second race. Picking up a quick profit of $700, she departed as quietly as she arrived.

Pete's Bet had been installed an even-money favorite to win because of his mud running qualities. Lauren and Wagner's Amazed upset him, but he slithered home in second place.

Jockey Knisley Trades Silks for Uniform of Army

Colin (Pete) Knisley, who started a race riding career here when A. E. Davis had a small stable of runners in winter training at the Fairground track five years ago, has laid away his boots and saddles and traded the bright colored silks for one of Uncle Sam's Army uniforms. But, just before he left he rode a dozen thoroughbreds into the winner's circle during the first six days of the fall meeting at Hamilton and gave the other jockeys there something to shoot at. Bobby Denton, with 11 winners, and Art Craig, with ten, are his closest rivals. Barring any bad luck, both boys should hang up several more before the end of the meeting next Saturday.

Knisley, spent his first year as an exercise boy while Davis, a former race rider, taught him not only how to "rate" a horse, but also balance and how to handle reins. After less time than most jockeys spend learning he fundamentals of their trade, Knisley rode his first race at Beulah Park in the spring of 1940 and brought home his first winner, Bon Hamburg, at North Randall, two weeks later. From then on, he had the ups and downs that mark the career of a race rider.

Davis described him as a "natural" rider with a knack for getting "all the run" out of his horses, and predicted that he had the ability to go far if he made the best of it. During his first three years, he rode at some of the big tracks in the east and the garden spots of Florida, but always came back to the Ohio meetings where he had unusual success.

He was in a three-horse spill at Beulah Park during the fall meeting but was not seriously hurt. After a short lay-off he came back to riding at Hamilton. Then he went into the Army.

A Fayette County native, he had never been on a horse until that cold January day in 1939 at the Fairgrounds although he had spent most of his life on the farm.

Tear Beaten But Not Out

BALTIMORE, Oct. 23.—(AP)—The second startling upset defeat of Twilight Tear by a three-year-old filly this year hasn't made any change in the Calumet Farm plans to match her against older horses in the $25,000 Pimlico Special November 1.

Toting 130 pounds, the queen of the turf ran out of the money for the first time in two years of racing in Saturday's Maryland Handicap at Laurel Park.

But the Tear came out of the race in good shape, and Calumet trainer, Ben A. Jones, said she apparently just couldn't win under the high impost and over the muddy racing strip.

The Tear who is stabled with others of the Calumet string at Pimlico, probably will not start again until the Special, Jones said.

It was here—other Americans last were reported six miles southeast of Duren which is 20 miles from Cologne on the Rhine—that the Germans apparently feared the main blow was building up.

A Berlin broadcast said the First Army seemed to have completed its regrouping, brought up "vast" tank reinforcements and could be expected to attack at any moment somewhere along a 16-mile front between Geilenkirchen and Stolberg.

The front from Aachen to the Vosges was a rain-soaked mire, and clouds at tree-top height also made an immediate offensive seem unlikely.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army restlessly poked an attack at the Germans toward the upper Saar valley, capturing Bezaunge La Petite, 19 miles east of Nancy, and fighting in Moncourt, 19 miles from the Saar.

The Germans fought under difficulties, caught in the rear by a bombing which broke an old 800-foot earthen dam two miles southeast of Dieuze and flooded the Seille valley for 10 miles.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Boxing the college football compass:

Midwest: Notre Dame, Ohio State, Purdue and Indiana rank as the Big Four with Iowa Pre-Flight, Illinois and Michigan not far behind. The Irish, although they yielded their first touchdowns of the year in beating Wisconsin by a 28 to 13 margin, may get their biggest test this weekend when they encountered Illinois' Speedsters, 28 to 5 victors over Pittsburgh.

Ohio State's beardless civilians, who entertain Minnesota Saturday, share Big Ten attention with Purdue following their 26 to 6 conquest of Great Lakes. The Boilermakers, who handled Iowa 26 to 7, come up against Michigan, which has had a two-weeks gridiron vacation. Iowa Pre-Flight has the week end off after piling into Fort Warren, 30 to 0, yesterday. Indiana plays Iowa.

GRAIN MARKET NEWS SUMMARY

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Wheat lost as much as a cent and other grain futures eased back in late trading today. Rye still was substantially above the previous close but far below the best figures of the day.

Profit taking was responsible for the setback in rye after a bullish early trade when prices soared three cents and more. At the start orders to buy came into the pit from every direction. Offerings were scarce and stop-loss orders were uncovered.

The wheat trade was neglected throughout the session.

The late trade in oats featured sales credited to northwestern account.

At the close wheat was 3/4 to 1/2 lower than Saturday's finish, December $1.63 3/4. Corn was unchanged to 1/4 higher, November $1.15 1/2. Oats were 1/4 to 1/2 higher, December 66 1/2. Rye was 1/2 to 1 1/2, December $1.13 1/2. Barley was 1/2 to 1/4 higher, December $1.06.

GRAIN CLOSE

CHICAGO, Oct. 23.—(AP)—Cash wheat—2 hard $1.70 1/2; No. 2 hard $1.62 1/2; No. 1 red $1.72 1/2; No. 2 red $1.71 1/2. No corn.

FINAL LAP OF NWF TO START HERE TUESDAY

Workers Report Monday Night: Lions Club Canteen To Get $1,000 of Fund

Tuesday will see beginning of the last lap in the $24,900 National War Fund drive here. Tuesday morning, workers and committeemen will know just how much more money is needed to make the goal for the next-to-last report is scheduled for Monday night.

All ward and township solicitors will report to their chairmen Monday to turn in the money they have collected after touring their areas. Wednesday a report meeting for chairmen and special committeemen is scheduled in Common Pleas Court room. Walter Rettig, campaign leader reminded his co-workers.

$1,000 For Canteen
Part of the money, $1,000, will be used in Washington C. H. to keep the servicemen's canteen at the bus station running. Sponsored by the Lions Club whose responsibility it is to keep the supply of cookies, coffee and soft drinks available, maintenance of the canteen costs about $50 weekly.

Since it opened about a year ago, thousands of furlough-bound servicemen and women have been refreshed during the few minutes they stopped here. Altogether thousands of cups of coffee, hundreds of dozens of cookies and countless bottles of milk and soft drinks have been pushed across the lunch counter to servicemen.

Many dozens of the cookies served there were made in the kitchen of Lions Club members' wives; others were donated by the Granges and other organizations. Still others were purchased outright and those purchases, plus the coffee and other drinks, run into money.

By giving to the National War Fund, you can help people right here in Washington C. H. as well as thousands of other servicemen overseas and the millions of civilians who have been bombed and blitzed out of their homes and away from their families.

RUNAWAYS ARE SENT TO GIS IN DELAWARE

Fourth Girl Is Recommitted To Children's Home

Johanna Hawes, Joan Bellar and Ruth Cookenour Monday morning were committed to the Girls' Industrial School at Delaware and Mary Ann Tubbs was committed to the Children's Home by Probate Judge Otis B. Core.

The quartet ran away from their homes Monday after school and were kept at the Columbus Detention Home from Wednesday until Friday. Mrs. W. L. Peterson, probation officer, said, Mrs. Peterson said she went to Columbus to bring the girls back to Washington C. H. Friday.

The three who will go to the industrial school twice before have run away, Judge Core said. They went to Mt. Sterling early this summer and last August were returned here from Cincinnati, he said.

opposite Tilsit in a new 15-mile advance and were subjecting that city to a withering artillery assault. Farther south Berlin acknowledged that another Russian column, in a 21-mile penetration from the east, overran the Rominer forest and was pushing on towards the towns of Gumbinnen and Goldap.

Official Moscow was still silent on the East Prussian offensive, but from German accounts it appeared the Red armies were developing a huge pincer aimed at the strategic city of Insterburg, 50 miles east of Konigsberg, East Prussian capital.

Success in Hungary

Moscow said Soviet troops had captured the big eastern Hungarian junction of Nyireghyaza, and other points near the south Czechoslovakian border, advancing 12 miles closer to strife-torn Budapest. A Soviet communique also said the north Yugoslav communications town of Sambor had been taken and Red army units had forced the Sava River beyond Belgrade in a pursuit of the Germans.

In the Arctic advance, Moscow said the Soviet Karelian army under Gen. K. A. Meretskov, supported by the Red Arctic fleet, hurled the Germans back on the Norwegian frontier in northern Finland on a front from Vuoremi on the Barents Sea inland to Lake Kuotsjarvis. Prize nickel mines in the Petsamo area which had been ceded to Russia by Finland were torn from the enemy's grasp.

OCTOBER 31 IS LAST DATE FOR MILK PAYMENTS

Application Necessary Now To Obtain Federal Payments

"October 31 is the end of the period set aside for making dairy feed payments for milk and butterfat produced and sold during July and August," Harry Silcott, Fayette County AAA chairman reminded farmers today.

Silcott explained that applications and evidence necessary to receive dairy feed payments are filed for two-month periods. Sixty days after the end of the second month of any period are allowed for the filing of applications and evidence by dairy producers.

"For example," Silcott said, "the applications for July-August dairy production and sales were accepted in the county AAA office beginning September 1. The sixty-day period then set aside for filing applications and evidence for July and August will end October 31."

"Applications for September-October production and sales will be accepted beginning November 1, and the period for filing for these two months will end December 31."

The Fayette County AAA chairman asked farmers to help themselves and the county AAA office by observing the payment periods for filing dairy feed applications and evidence.

INSURANCE BUSINESS ENTERED BY B. A. TRACEY

Back from two weeks of intensive training, Byron A. Tracey Monday entered a new field of work here as a representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Tracey started at the old Herald as a Linotype operator while still a school boy. He learned the trade which he followed for nearly 20 years and then went to the Coffman Stair Co. until war broke out. For the past three years, he has been at Patterson Field as civilian assistant superintendent of one of the big Army Air Forces warehouses.

As a representative of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., he expects to make his headquarters here, where he always has lived and has many friends, indefinitely.

CHAS. MICHAEL DIES IN FRANCE PARENTS LEARN

19-year-old Was Killed in Action September 28, Telegram Says

Pfc. Charles Michael, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Michael, 1006 East Temple Street, was killed in action in France September 28, a War Department telegram informed his parents Monday.

Pfc. Michael wore the Purple Heart at the time of his death. He was wounded on the Anzio Beachhead. He had been overseas since February.

Drafted before he could complete high school, Pfc. Michael entered the service August 12, 1943. He was with the forces which invaded southern France last August.

He was a Boy Scout and a member of McNair Presbyterian Church. For three years he was a Record-Herald carrier. His 20th birthday is in December.

Surviving are his parents and a brother, Jimmy, at home. Jimmy is in the fourth grade. Another brother, Donald, is a seaman first class in the navy and is now at sea. His grandmother, Mrs. Charles Davis, lives at 346 West Court Street.

COLDEST MORNING SO FAR THIS FALL

With an official reading of 28 degrees, Monday morning was the coldest of the season, and there was an abundance of frost, the second killing frost of the season. Due to the dry weather frost damage was held to a minimum, however.

Sunday's high point was 65 degrees. A year ago 62 and 41 were the extremes.

UNDERBRUSH IS CLEARED AWAY ON PARK SITE

No Report Yet on Financial Standing of Rotary Club Project

The next time you look at what used to be Perry's Park, now the Washington Park, you may see a change.

Dick Lynch of Jasper Mills is at work now clearing out underbrush with a caterpillar tractor and repairing the fences. He is starting the job of transforming the park at the bidding of the Rotary Club, which backed the partially completed park drive, which has been tabled until later.

Another immediate-future prospect is letting a contract to fill in the drive. Part of the fill will come from the bottom of the ponds, it is said.

No report has been made yet as to just how the project stands financially. It is expected to be released when the directors meet to assemble a final report. It is understood the money now in the fund is not enough to build the swimming pool which is the A-1 feature of the proposed park.

The Folks who Moved out Had a Telephone. Why can't we Have It?

That may be, but that telephone will be given to them at their new location, if other facilities such as cable pairs, and switchboard connections are available. If they are moving out of the city, or decide they do not want service at their new home, the facilities are placed in an operating pool, and then assigned to the person who is next in order. We are sure you will agree that is the fair way—old users first and new ones in their proper turn.
